

About:

Janet Goldner is a New York City based interdisciplinary artist. Her steel sculpture, photography, video, text, installation and social projects bridge diverse cultures, exploring and celebrating similarities and differences. Goldner's work has been exhibited in over thirty solo exhibitions, and over one hundred-fifty group exhibitions throughout the United States and internationally.

<https://www.janetgoldner.com/>

Internship Description:

I am looking for a thoughtful, culturally literate student to help with ongoing administrative work and outreach at my studio in Tribeca this spring. The intern will help articulate the narrative of my 50 year artistic practice, helping to research and contact galleries, curators and exhibition spaces. They will also assist with submissions, emails, follow-ups and general outreach strategy. Research may be done remotely by mutual agreement.

Additional tasks and opportunities based on the interests, skills, and experience level of the intern can be discussed as the internship develops. Students with more questions about the position may reach out to Janet directly at art@janetgoldner.com.

Preferred Qualifications:

- A background in studio art or art history
- Experience in communicating with galleries, museums, or similar arts institutions
- Excellent research and writing skills
- Excellent interpersonal and organizational skills.
- Detail-oriented

How to Apply:

Send a resume and cover letter to Jack Perry at jp5914@hunter.cuny.edu with the subject line "Janet Goldner Internship".

Compensation:

The internship starts at $20 an hour. Graduate students may apply for an additional $10 an hour for up to 150 hours from the Office of the Arts. Visit the ooa website for instructions on how to apply for funding after receiving an internship offer here.