

Photo: Jonathan Tichler / Met Opera

MET STUDENTS AMBASSADORS

Comprising undergraduate and graduate students from colleges and universities in New York, New Jersey, and Connecticut, this group serves as the Met’s student street team for publicizing new initiatives, offers, and discounts; devising promotional strategy on local campuses; and planning exclusive events for Met Students members.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Attend virtual or in-person meetings, as scheduled
- Work with student organizations to promote Met tickets and events
- Set up Met Students registration tables on your campus, when possible
- Collaborate with other Ambassadors on your campus

PERKS

- Invitations to exclusive Ambassador events
- Tickets to final dress rehearsals at the Met
- Comp tickets to Met performances, when staffing pre-show parties
- Exclusive meetings with Met artists and staff

OPPORTUNITIES

- Found an on-campus organization that brings students to the Met
- Schedule free backstage tours for student groups
- Organize career panels and meet-and-greets
- Examine materials from the Met’s archive
- Plan events on your campus or at the Met
- Create social media content (e.g., takeovers, follow-alongs)

TO APPLY

Reach out to Nick Rinehart at NRinehart@metopera.org for more information.

SOME EXAMPLES...

- Class trip to examine archival materials related to Benjamin Britten at the Met (CUNY)
- Career panel on women in media at the Met (SVA)
- Conversation with staff pianists and assistant conductors (NYU)
- Discussion with Met principal artist before an evening performance (Princeton)
- Free lecture and mixer at the Met with prizes for trivia winners (Columbia)
- New on-campus groups to help fund student trips to the Met (Mannes / CUNY / Princeton / Columbia)
- Departmental social outing to an evening performance (Yale)
- Using campus activity fund to bring students to an evening performance (Sarah Lawrence)